

Egmont – Royal Institute for International Relations is recruiting a Research Fellow for its European Affairs Programme, starting on 1 March 2012.

Function

- Policy-oriented research on the European Union, with an emphasis on internal policies. Areas of particular interest are, among others: institutional questions, economic issues, internal market, budget, migration and asylum.
- Organizing seminars, conferences and roundtables on these issues, and contributing to the logistics of these events.

Qualifications

- In depth knowledge of the EU institutions and functioning, and a good knowledge of the Belgian institutions.
- Fluency in English (both written and spoken) and active knowledge of one of the working languages of the Institute, French or Dutch, with good passive knowledge of the other.
- MA degree in a relevant area (law, political sciences, economics or other).
- Team spirit - this position requires constant interaction with other researchers- sense of initiative, capacity to work autonomously, flexibility and adaptability.

A motivated letter of application and CV can be sent by e-mail to Ms. Marina Cruysmans, Executive Director, m.cruysmans@egmontinstitute.be, by 15 January 2012, mentioning as subject “Research Fellow EU program”.

EGMONT, Rue de Namur - Naamsestraat 69, 1000 Brussels.
<http://www.egmontinstitute.be>