Global Public Goods

Edited by Marina Larionova, National Research University
– Higher School of Economics, Moscow, Russia

'A more than timely analysis of how the EU, with its new foreign policy machinery, acts within a quickly evolving G8/G20. A crucial analysis of Europe's crucial contribution to global governance.'

– Sven Biscop, Egmont Institute & Ghent University, Belgium

'This collection of timely and provocative articles makes a signal contribution to the study of the changing role of the European Union in global governance, illustrating how the EU has become a truly global actor in a short period of time. I recommend this collection to all serious students of international politics.'

– Richard Connolly, University of Birmingham, UK

An eminent international line up of experts in law, political science, economics and history examine the dynamics of the European Union's (EU) development as a collective member of the G8 and G20. Each contribution provides a methodical and much needed insight into the external and internal factors influencing this evolution process, the options for these institutions to reform and collaborate and future role of the EU in this new system of institutions.
