

Governing justice and security in Central Africa

12 December 2016

10.00-13.00

Salle Orange, Egmont Palace, 8bis Place du Petit Sablon, 1000 Brussels

PROGRAMME

9.30-10.00 Registration

10.00-10.15 Introduction by Mary Kaldor (London School of Economics)

10.15-11.15 Challenging the state: governance contexts in perspective

Chair: Koen Vlassenroot, UGent and Egmont Institute

- 'Fragmented justice in Kongo-Central' (Jose Bazonzi, UNIKIN)
- 'Military fragmentation in the Kivus' (Godefroid Muzalia, Institut Supérieur Pédagogique, Bukavu)
- 'What happened to Uganda's 'invisible children'?' (Jackyline Atingo and Tim Allen, London School of Economics)

11.15-11.30 Coffee break

11.30-12.45 Policy responses to the promotion of justice and security

Chair: Valérie Arnould, Egmont Institute

- 'Land conflicts and justice responses' (Julian Hopwood, London School of Economics and Rachel Ibreck, Goldsmiths-UCL)
- 'Transitional Justice and Criminal Prosecutions' (Holly Porter, London School of Economics)
- 'DDR/SSR in DRC and CAR' (Tatiana Carayannis, Social Science Research Council)

- 'Stabilization and multi-layered security arrangements' (Koen Vlassenroot, UGent/Egmont Institute and Kasper Hoffmann, University of Copenhagen)

12.45-13.00 What should future policies look like? – Mary Kaldor (London School of Economics)

13.00-14.00 Lunch